WHAT THIS IS IN ONE LINE

The structured flows for bringing people and counterparties into Aryze — the sales-to-onboarding handoff, customers, employees and partners — each documented flow opens as a structured page; flows still in documentation are marked, with the owner named.

The four flows.

One slot per flow. Documented flows open as structured pages; flows still being documented are marked as such, with the owner named.

DOCUMENTED SALES → ONBOARDING Sales-to-Onboarding process From commercial commitment to live operation: the handoff packet (same shape across all three products), the six-stage readiness flow, per-product gates, the ownership model, time targets and escalation paths. Open the process →	DOCUMENTED CUSTOMER Pay by Bank — merchant onboarding The four-step flow: map the payment flow → know your business (KYB) checks → integration & test → go live. Honest timelines, sandbox-first, and the capability lines that are deliberately not in the box. Open the flow →	DOCUMENTED EMPLOYEE Employee onboarding Derived from the staff handbook: contract and fit & proper checks before start, day-one standards, compliance and IT-security training in the first weeks, and the rhythms that continue. The role-specific 30/60/90 plan is set per hire by the nearest leader. Open the flow →

DIGITAL CASH

NEEDS DATA

Digital Cash customer onboarding

Documented as the owner finalises the source material. Institutional flow on the 6–18 month cycle, multi-stakeholder by nature. Owner: Commercial.

Flows still in documentation are owned by the teams named above and appear here as structured pages once the source material is finalised.
